JUNE 2022

This is the assignment that was done during the YN program "Understanding the Redbook" at the June meeting.

Using the printout or your most recent red book please complete the questions about the Lincoln Wheat Cents below.

| Question | Coin Description   | Grade |
|----------|--|-------|
| 1        | 1935 Lincoln cent, mint mark D, Wheat lines are a worn, but still visible.   |       |
| 2        | 1948 Lincoln cent, mint mark S, very nice coin with only slight wear on Lincoln's cheek and jaw. Slight wear on the wheat stalks.  |       |
| 3        | 1954 Lincoln cent, no mint mark. The date is worn, but readable. There are no lines on the wheat heads. The rims of the coin are full.                                     |       |
| 4        | 1940 Lincoln cent, mint mark. This coin has some wear on the wheat lines, but they are visible.  |       |
| 5        | 1948 Lincoln cent, no mint mark. This coin has only slight wear. All the details on the wheat ears and on the obverse are sharp.   |       |
| 6        | 1948 Lincoln cent, mint mark D. There is some wheat on this coin, but you can clearly see both a cheek and jaw on the obverse. There are no worn spots on the wheat heads. |       |

7. What would you say about a 1943 Lincoln cent that was minted on a bronze blank?

_____

8. Which metal was in shortage in 1943? _____

9. Where was a 1938 Lincoln cent minted at if it does not have a mint mark?

_____

10. True/false. The values listed in the red book are exactly what you would get if you tried to sell your coins. _____

Editor's Say

Happy June everyone. I hope you are keeping cool! Our YN meetings are going to look different from now on. Jim will not be our advisor anymore. Plus, I understand there will be more changes coming soon. Stay tuned!
